SEVEN CHILDREN SAVED FROM FLAMES AT SOOKE LOWE OF BRITAIN WINS 800 METRES

Shatters World's Record In Dashing Olympic Victory

Runner Who Captured Event at Paris Olympiad Simply Walks Away From Brilliant Field in Final Sprint for Tape; Record Which Has Stood for Sixteen Years Topples; Phil Edwards of Canada fourth, With Much-talked-of United States Runner, Lloyd Hahn, Fifth

Amsterdam, July 31.—Douglas Lowe, of Great Britain, to-day won the 800-metres final in the Olympic Games, retaining his championship won in 1924 at Paris. Lowe won by ten yards from Bylehn, of Sweden. It was a complete triumph.

Lowe's time in a beautifully-run race, in which he out-classed the field, was 1:51.4-5 seconds, breaking the Olympic record by a tenth of a second. Herman Englehardt, Germany; was third, Phil Edwards, Canada, fourth; Lloyd Hahn, the much-touted United States runner, fifth, and Martin, of France, sixth.

There were nine starters in the 800-metre final. Hahn darted to the front at the first turn, closely followed by Lowe and Edwards. They kept that order, with Earl Fuller and Ray Watson, of the United States, bringing up the rear, until the turn into the home stretch, where Lowe shot out and ran away from his rivals as though they were standing still.

The record broken by Lowe's great run had stood since the Olympic Games at Stockholm in 1912, when it was set at 1:51.9-10 by Ted Meredith of the United States.

The pace was even faster than when the Englishman won at Paris in 1924, his time having been 1:52.2-3.

WHIRLWIND FINISH
Elizabeth Robinson, of the United States, won the 100-metres final for women.

Fanny Rosenfeldt and Ethel Smith, Toronto girls, ran splendid races to finish second and third respectively. The time was 12.1-5 seconds.

Myrtle Cook, Toronto, and Miss Schmidt, Germany, were disqualified for false starting.

Miss Steinberg, of Germany, finished fourth and last.

Manager M. C. Robinson, of the Canadian Olympic team, protested the victory of Elizabeth Robinson in the final, claiming reliable witnesses at the finish line stated that Fanny Rosenfeldt of Toronto won. It was a headline finish.

He mentioned the lady manager of the Women's Athletic Federation as one who supports his protest.

FOUR PROSPECTS FOR MAYORALTY PREFER SILENCE

Alderman Brown Earns Criticism By Early Campaigning

Alderman Percy R. Brown's unexpected summer campaign for the mayoralty, which opened yesterday afternoon in an announcement before the Gyro Club, has aroused blasts of reprisals from other possible mayoralty timber.

Aldermen Marchant and Woodward, ex-Reeve Herbert Anson, of Oak Bay and John Dean, nearly victor over Mayor Penderay in a sudden runoff last December, are allied against Alderman Brown.

All agree on one point, that Alderman Brown is making a sad mistake in taking the voters into his confidence so early in the year. With months to pass before the ballots fall in the boxes, all joyous declarations that the unexpected declaration of war will have lost effect, forecast that Alderman Brown will have outworn his welcome as a prospective candidate, will be unable to attract an audience and will have shot his bolt.

CHANCE NOT STABLE
Alderman E. S. Woodward stated that he could make no prediction at this time as to his course next November. "I do not even know where I will be," he protested, but gladly agreed to express opinion as to the wisdom of Alderman Brown in taking the voters into his confidence. "I think the idea of a mayoralty campaign at this time is ridiculous. Alderman Brown will lose ground by this move. I shall say nothing at this time as to my own intentions next Fall. There is lots of time to tell what one proposes," he said, reiterating absolute inability to forecast in July what his course will be in December.

HON. C. STEWART VISITS VICTORIA

Minister of Interior Speaks of Negotiations For Peace River Railway

Vancouver, July 31.—"Everybody recognizes the time has come when the Peace River district must have an outlet here," declared Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in Vancouver to-day.

"Negotiations to that end are on, but I know very little of the details. They are in the hands of Sir Henry Thornton. What route is favored I cannot say, but I understand the P.G.E. figures in the discussion. Apparently the delay in coming to a conclusion in the railway negotiations hinges on the price to be paid for the Great Waterways Line in Alberta."

Mr. Stewart proceeded to Victoria on the morning boat to confer with the Indian Department officials of this Province.

SEARCH MADE FOR BANDITS

But So Far Hunt in North Dakota For Winnipeg Bank Robbers Has Failed

Grand Forks, N.D., July 31.—North Dakota officers to-day searched for five bandits who took $25,000 from two bank messengers in Winnipeg yesterday, fled across the international boundary and disarmed two pursuing officers near Lawton, N.D., yesterday.

After shattering the windshield of the pursuing car, three of the four bandits covered the officers, disarmed them, disconnected the ignition wires of their car and took five gallons of gasoline to enable them to continue their flight.

Two Canadian officers were in the neighborhood of Lawton to-day, along with the search for the five men, the last trace of whom was had when they halted a car in which were William Henneberry, United States immigration officer, and Lester Edgington, provincial policeman. The two officers stopped their car when they were cut by flying glass. A sawed-off shotgun was used in the attack on them.

NO TRACE FOUND
Winnipeg, July 31.—Following an extensive all-night hunt which led through the southern portions of Manitoba and across the international border into North Dakota, police and immigration officials to-day were without any definite trace of the five bandits who held up two Bank of Commerce messengers here yesterday morning and escaped with $25,000.

The last heard of the fugitive hold-up men was from Lawton, N.D., where they are reported to have ridden an immigration official's car with bullets.

Police Charge Her With Having Influenced Toral to Murder General Obregon

Mexico City, July 31.—Sister Concepcion Acedo de la Lata is held in a cell at police headquarters here charged with having induced Jose de Leon Toral to commit murder. Sister Concepcion, who is about thirty-two years old and wears her hair bobbed, is mother superior of the convent in which Toral is alleged by the police to have conceived the idea of assassinating Gen. Alvaro Obregon, President-elect of Mexico. Newspapers to-day quoted her as having told reporters at police headquarters that "I hope soon to be executed. I want to be punished."

Sister Concepcion did not admit she had influenced Toral to slay the President-elect. She was quoted as having added: "God must have wanted it. Otherwise he would not have permitted the crime."

Toral was indicted to commit the crime by a belief that by killing the President-elect he could solve the religious problems of Mexico, the police declared in a formal statement.

READY FOR TRIAL

Toral, who was an art student, is twenty-three years of age. The case against him is stated to be ready for the courts. The slayer is to be turned over to the district court at San Angel, where the crime was committed, but it is thought possible the trial may be transferred to a court in Mexico City.

HINCHLIFFE APPOINTMENT IS OPPOSED

Native Sons Protest Against Him Becoming Minister of Education

Attitude Towards School Affairs Cited in Message to Tolmie

Determined opposition to the proposed appointment of Joshua Hinchcliffe of Victoria to the post of Minister of Education, is expressed in a resolution forwarded to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier-elect, by Assembly No. 2, Native Sons of Canada, of Vancouver.

D. H. Elliott, president of the assembly, announced that his organization merely wanted to place itself on record that in view of Mr. Hinchcliffe's expressed views on the question of what Canadian children should be taught in the way of history and patriotism was not well fitted for the Portfolio of Education.

NO TOLMIE'S VIEWS
The resolution pointed out also that Mr. Hinchcliffe's views are not in accord with the stand outlined in Dr. Tolmie's manifesto, in which the Conservative leader took the view that a strong national sentiment should be built up in Canada.

Mr. Elliott states that the Native Sons of Canada were guided in their action by the report of a debate in the Legislature a few years ago, when Mr. Hinchcliffe took violent exception to views expressed on the question of patriotism to Canada and to the Empire by students at the University of British Columbia.

NO APPOINTMENT URGED
The president makes it clear that the organization has not the slightest intention of urging the appointment of any particular person to the position.

It was the purpose of the resolution to point out that Mr. Hinchcliffe would be unacceptable to a great body of citizens of both political parties, Mr. Elliott said.

Trustees noted with pleasure that in the examinations for high school entrance, Saanich schools had attained a record of 172 pupils passing out of 203 writing examinations.

(Special to The Times)

Sooke, July 31.—While seven young children, all under ten years of age were asleep, the house of Hugh McDonald, Jordan River and Sooke stage driver and mail carrier, caught fire this morning, and only courageous efforts of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald in battling through the flames to carry their children to safety prevented a gruesome tragedy.

The fire was noticed by Mr. McDonald at 4:30 this morning. Smell of smoke awakened him and he sprang out of bed to police fire had gained a good hold in the kitchen. The house stands in nearly an acre of ground, and although there was no long dry grass around, the continued dry spell threatened a fire of considerable proportions if not promptly checked.

Mr. McDonald awakened his wife, and rushed to the beds of his children, while the flames were making headway and smoke was filling the premises. They snatched a child each from their beds and rushed them to the road in their night clothes. The nearest neighbors, on the other side of the road, were aroused and rendered help in fighting the flames and saving the children.

No fire fighting apparatus was at hand so the rescuers concentrated their attention on saving the lives of the young children.

The mother and father regardless of danger dashed into the burning home and each with a child clutching their hands led the way for the rest of the family to safety. By this time the flames had gained such a hold that they were only able to escape in the nick of time. Mr. McDonald was scorched and had his feet badly burned as he carried the last child to safety.

The house, a well-built bungalow, was burned to the ground. The garage, housing the car which Mr. McDonald uses on his stage run, was also completely destroyed. None of the contents of the house were saved from the flames which had razed the premises within half an hour of the outbreak.

"Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday. The golden text was: "We have known and believed that love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God and God in him."

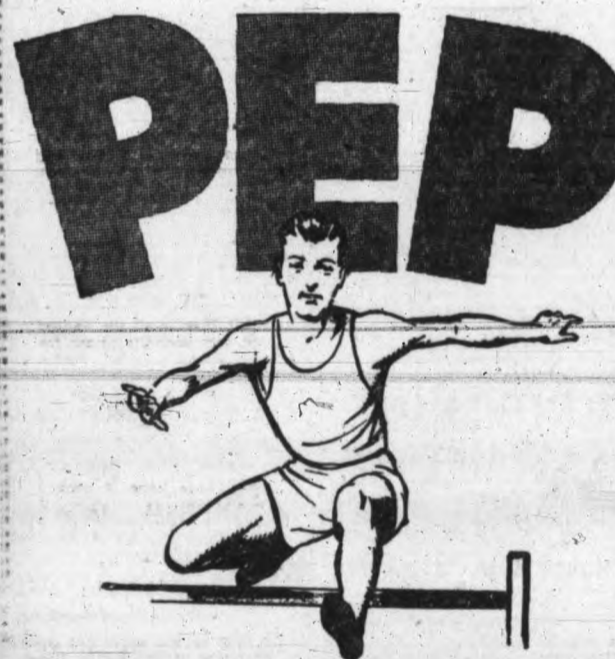

Scriptural texts and their correlative passages from the denominational text-book comprised the sermon.

One of the scriptural texts was from Daniel vi-16: "Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, He will deliver thee."

The following correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was also read: "Every trial of our faith in God makes us stronger. The more difficult seems the material condition to be overcome by Spirit, the stronger should be our faith and the purer our love. The Apostle John says: 'There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear.' He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

WAR TRUCKS
ARE POWERFULSix Wheel Lorries Will Travel
Over Trenches and Through
Sea of Mud

Showing the wonderful advance made by the British War Department in the manufacture of war transport, the picture films and lantern slides depicting the demonstration of British army transports in the last military manoeuvres in England were shown last night at Work Point Barracks.

Major P. Hennessy gave an interesting address on the advancement of motor transportation in military service. During the course of Major Hennessy's address, lantern slides were shown to illustrate not only the advance in transport vehicles but to give some idea of the general appearance of new six-wheel trucks.

Following the lantern slides four reels of motion pictures were run off showing the six wheels in operation. The six wheel, four-wheel drive vehicles, climbed hills that had grades of one foot to every two, and one in every three. There would be no trouble for six-wheel vehicles to cross trenches or to go through lakes of mud.

For emergency the lorries, carry chains, similar to tractor belts, which are easily and quickly adjusted.

FORT VICTORIA

To the Editor.—Referring to the article contained in your issue of July 28, in reference to the brass plate commemorating the establishment of Fort Victoria. This tablet does not, as one would be led to imagine, mention the name of Camosun. It is curious how matters of fact are perpetuated by statements such as I allude to in your article. As the very oldest resident of British Columbia I may be permitted to say that in all my experience in going back to the early period of 1847 or '48 and during my residence of two years in the fort itself, I never heard the word "Camosun" mentioned by any of the old residents such as Mr. Douglas, Governor Blanshard, Mr. Pinlayson, J. W. McKay, Rev. B. J. Staines or any of the other persons living at that time. As a matter of fact the whole matter is set at rest by the following copy of the minutes of the council of 1846, held at Red River Settlement, and was beside anyone who had the temerity to contravene the orders of that august body, which ran as follows:

"That the establishment to be formed on the Straits of Juan de Fuca to be named Fort Victoria be erected on a scale sufficiently extensive to answer the purposes of the depot; the square of the fort be not less than 150 yards; the buildings to be substantial and erected as far apart as the grounds may admit with a view to guarding against fire."

In accordance with that order Fort Victoria was constructed.

I may add that this was the very first place named after Queen Victoria on her accession to the throne.

ITALIA MEN WELCOMED ON RETURN HOME

Noble and Other Survivors
Greeted By Premier Mussolini and People

Rome, July 31.—General Umberto Nobile and the other surviving men of the lost North Pole expedition, who came back to Italy to-day to be greeted enthusiastically by their countrymen, seeking to show unbounded confidence in them despite criticisms in many parts of Europe.

Premier Mussolini symbolized the feelings of the Italian people in the matter by being the first to express greetings to the returning men at the very threshold of the mother country, purposely sending the prefect of Bolzano to the Brenner Pass to welcome them in the name of "Fascist Italy."

As the train transporting Nobile and his men advanced southward the enthusiasm increased steadily.

VIEWS OF U.S. ON NAVY CUT PLAN ASKED

If the United States and other nations reject the compromise, a meeting will be called to consider changes. FULL SUPPORT NEEDED.

The compromise will not become effective until the major powers agree to it.

The Government spokesman carefully explained that the compromise was in no sense an agreement as to definite reductions. It was essentially a "formula of principles," on which reductions could be made. What those principles were, however, the Government was unwilling to state at present, he said.

The hope was expressed that the principles which had now been reached would inspire the calling of another naval disarmament conference for which the work of the Preparatory Commission was a preliminary.

NO POLITICAL ANGLES

Paris, July 31.—The scope of the Franco-British naval reduction compromise which Sir Austen Chamberlain announced in the British House of Commons yesterday is being kept secret until the nature of another disarmament conference for which the work of the Preparatory Commission was a preliminary.

The French Foreign Office, however, to-day stated there were no political angles in the understanding, but that it was limited to technical points such as tonnage and the size of guns, questions which would be considered at the Geneva disarmament conference.

SUBMARINE QUESTION

London, July 31.—Possibility of renewed discussions among the naval powers, hinging on the submarine question, was advanced by some observers to-day in commenting on Sir Austen Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons yesterday.

The British Foreign Secretary said the British Government had had successful conversations with France regarding differences which had arisen between the two Governments about the submarine question. He announced he was about to submit to the other principal naval powers the compromise agreement which had been reached, hoping thereby to remove obstacles to the progress of the disarmament idea.

Sir Austen indicated the first open discussion of the compromise probably would be held at sessions of the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament of the League of Nations.

When that commission found its work brought to a stop last March through the possibility of not reaching an agreement, the question of the construction of submarines was one of the main differences between Great Britain and France. Observers thought this might be the principal feature of the new compromise. Great Britain wanted restriction of submarine construction, but France was opposed.

10,000-TON CRUISERS.

Paris, July 31.—The most important clause of the Franco-British naval agreement signed on Saturday is understood to be concerned with the question of 10,000-ton cruisers.

The precise feature of the question of 10,000-ton cruisers is being withheld here because it was agreed between the British and French Governments that Washington should first be informed. A note giving the full contents of the agreement went forward to the French Charge d'Affaires at Washington last night, and presumably will be transmitted to the State Department to-day. The other signatories to the Washington naval agreement, Italy and Japan, also will be informed.

Sir Austen Chamberlain's announcement in the British House of Commons yesterday was a complete surprise to the French Foreign Office as the agreement was issued only on Saturday in London and the French had assumed all the great naval powers would be informed before any announcement was made.

Vancouver, July 31.—A cable to the Vancouver Province from Sydney, N.S.W., says:

"S. Y. Maling, manager of the electric department of the Sydney city administration, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor and fined $2,500 for corruptly receiving $10,000 from Babcock & Wilcox, engineers. If the fine is not paid Maling is to serve twelve months."

The magistrate told Maling he was guilty of a gross offence calculated to shock the moral sense of every right-thinking person in the community. He had proved completely false to his trust and had prostituted an important office by levying blackmail on persons endeavoring to do business with his principals.

"Bail was allowed pending an appeal."

"The manager for Babcock & Wilcox had stated he had been forced to pay money to secure an important contract."

NEW FLAG FOR CANADA URGED BY NATIVE SONS

Regina, July 31.—Discussion of immigration problems and adoption of a distinctive national flag for Canada occupied the major part of the first business session of the annual meeting of the National Council of the Native Sons of Canada, held here yesterday under the chairmanship of H. D. Ainsley of Edmonton, president.

It was decided to reaffirm resolutions adopted at former meetings of the Council requesting the Federal Government to adopt a distinctive national flag as and for the national flag of Canada, it was reported by the committee at the close of the business session, which was held in camera.

Considerable time was taken up with a discussion of immigration problems involved in the drafting of the organization's immigration plank as adopted at Courtenay, B.C. in 1924. This plank reads as follows:

"Immigration should be greatly encouraged, but only those of the best stock should be allowed to enter Canada and special efforts should be made to repatriate Canadians and bring in people accustomed to similar laws and conditions of life and industry as exist in Canada, tending to make a mixed or colored race, or which tends to lower the standards of living, education or morals, or which brings in the physically, mentally or morally unfit, should be prohibited."

A committee was named to report at a later session.

Edmonton, July 31.—One hundred members of the Edmonton Board of Trade party, including Hon. Robert Forke, Federal Minister of Immigration and Colonization, spent the entire night of July 29 on a lonely ferry wharf at Taylor's Point, B.C., waiting for the steamer D. A. Thomas, which was delayed by low water on the Peace River, sixty miles downstream. A dearth of provisions and driving rainstorm added to the privations of the adventurers, but they chopped down trees for fires, raided the few scattered farmhouses in the vicinity and got through the night without any casualty.

Monday morning an open boat arrived from the D. A. Thomas, and Mr. Forke and several of the older members of the party were taken back to the steamer for shelter. The captain was hopeful of getting to Taylor's Point later in the day in order that the party might resume its trip to Hudson's Hope.

Robert Forke, Federal Minister of Immigration and Colonization, spent the entire night of July 29 on a lonely ferry wharf at Taylor's Point, B.C., waiting for the steamer D. A. Thomas, which was delayed by low water on the Peace River, sixty miles downstream. A dearth of provisions and driving rainstorm added to the privations of the adventurers, but they chopped down trees for fires, raided the few scattered farmhouses in the vicinity and got through the night without any casualty.

Monday morning an open boat arrived from the D. A. Thomas, and Mr. Forke and several of the older members of the party were taken back to the steamer for shelter. The captain was hopeful of getting to Taylor's Point later in the day in order that the party might resume its trip to Hudson's Hope.

EMPIRE DOING WELL AT AMSTERDAM

IF THE BRITISH EMPIRE FIGURATIVELY experiences a little chest expansion to-day it ought to be pardoned by the rest of the world. Yesterday's feats at Amsterdam were enough to make it feel a bit cocky. What with Percy Williams carrying all before him in the 100-metre dash, Lord Burghley leading the string of hurdlers in the 400-metre event, and Patrick O'Callaghan flinging the hammer far enough to capture the crown in this section, Canada, England, and Ireland very naturally are not opposed to the world making a note of what happened on the second day of the Olympic Games of 1928. But this is not all. Douglas Lowe of Great Britain to-day won the 800-metre race against the most brilliant field of half-mile ever assembled, thus repeating his achievement of 1924, but breaking the Olympic record set at Stockholm in 1912 by the United States. All this after only three days of the Olympiad!

Preponderance in the number of entrants from the neighboring republic no doubt will give her a fair margin when the individual scores are totaled up. But the principal satisfaction lies not in the number of points scored but in the number of first-place triumphs recorded. As a matter of fact, by reason of her many participants, it is quite feasible that the United States could capture the laurels by points without a single first-place victory. The points captured by the British Empire yesterday and to-day, therefore, are worth more intrinsically and from the point of view of results than four times the number piled up by seconds, thirds and fourths, and so on. Canada also may look forward to triumphs in the cycle and sculling events. Wright of Toronto should be able to hold his own on the water and Peden of Victoria has an excellent chance of turning in a bit of good advertising for this city by living up to his fine reputation for fast pedaling.

MR. BENNETT'S DOLEFUL SPEECHES

WE ARE TOLD BY THE MORNING paper that the speeches which Hon. R. B. Bennett recently has been delivering in Eastern Canada bring before the people of the Dominion some of the problems with which they have to contend. It quotes this from his Ottawa speech: "To the extent that we have deprived the Canadian people of work, and the Canadian farmer of home markets, we have lessened the prosperity of this country." The Colonist then comments: "The course of policy pursued by the present Federal Government is placing this Dominion, to a greater degree all the time, more at the mercy of its foreign competitors. There is a selling out process in progress. The natural products in the raw state, of the farm, the forest and the mine, are being taken over, for cash it is true, by our foreign competitors. We should manufacture these products at home."

Mr. Bennett's favorite theme these days—when he is speaking politically—is a recital of what he tries to make out is our continual loss of population to the United States. He tells us that our boys have to cross the border to obtain employment, that there are no opportunities for them here. He infers, although most of his references to it of late have been pitched in a minor key, that this so-called condition could be corrected by an increase of import duties on all goods entering this country that are in competition with our own products. In other words, he would increase the profits of a comparatively small circle of producers and charge them to the consumers. But there is a phase of the population question which neither Mr. Bennett nor the morning paper cares to discuss. It would spoil the political picture which the one paints and the other admires—as good strategy. It is Canada's loss of producers between the years of 1912 and 1921, when the party to which Mr. Bennett belongs was in office at Ottawa.

The official census of 1911 accounted for a population of 7,206,643. The Canada Year Book puts the natural increase in the following decade at 1,150,000, while the immigration total between 1912 and 1921 is recorded as 1,811,840, the three years, 1912, 1913, 1914 accounting for 1,141,547 of this amount. It therefore will be observed that the census of 1921 should have shown our population to be 10,166,483, instead of which the total was 8,788,484. If either Mr. Bennett or The Colonist desired to be fair in this matter, one of them, or both, at least would make some effort to explain what happened to the 1,380,000 during the 1912-1921 period. Mr. Bennett sat in the House of Commons all that time and supported first the Borden Government and then the Meighen Government. If he did not know this exodus was taking place, he was poorly informed on matters vitally affecting the country. If he knew all about it, it is pertinent to inquire why he did not draw the attention of the Government to it and press for some form of corrective.

The fact of the matter is, Canada lost this enormous number of her people because the policies which the Conservative Government introduced after the Laurier regime left office in 1911 were of a trade-restricting nature and caused a considerable drop in home production with its inevitable limitation of the labor market. Since 1921, however, a very different state of affairs has existed. In a year or so after the Mackenzie King Government took office all forms of Canadian industry began to improve, former Canadians who had gone to reside in the United States began to come back to their own country in large numbers, and the northward trek shows no sign of abatement. Two factors influenced them: Employment conditions in the United States began to get serious and since have grown worse, while it was obvious to them that Canada was enjoying a substantial measure of prosperity—which is destined to continue. And while Mr. Bennett and other Conservative speakers are painting these doleful pictures, business leaders and bank presidents are assuring us that Canada is in a very satisfactory condition indeed. But then, they are not politicians; they are concerned only with facts.

NOBILE AND THE ITALIA?

RUMORS BEGINNING TO FLOAT about Europe suggest that some way will be found to explain the disaster to the Italia in such a way as to leave Italy's honor above reproach. But some commentators who refuse to put a fine point on their observations fail to see how General Nobile can hope to explain satisfactorily why he permitted himself to be rescued first. The hostile demonstration at Narvik, Captain Zappi's "call" upon Professor Malmgren's mother, and facts already established have perplexed them and added to their suspicion that many things that ought to be explained will not be explained. We are not in a position to comment with any authority on what may or may not have taken place in the solitudes of the Arctic.

Although it may have no specific reference to the Nobile expedition, observations which Mr. Wickham Steed, formerly editor of The London Times, makes in the current issue of The Review of Reviews, may throw some light on Italy's object in dispatching the Italia to the Arctic. He notes the surprise which was occasioned in England when Italy proposed to send eighty aeroplanes to take part in the pageant of the Royal Air Force at Hendon. Since room could not be found for so large a force, however, and since, after all, the pageant was British and not Italian, the number of Italian machines actually sent was considerably smaller. Mr. Steed notes by the way: "The necessity of ensuring that military aviation shall be kept within safe international bounds was emphasized by the proposal that six or seven dozen machines should cross Europe solely for the purpose of taking part in a mainly military demonstration. If warlike competition is to be restricted on land and sea, it must also be restricted in the air."

Mr. Steed, however, throws out another suggestion of considerable potency. He proceeds to say: "It is the more comprehensible that the Fascist Government should seek to gratify Italian patriotic pride by striking achievements in aviation, and in other fields of enterprise, since the prospective signature of the Peace Pact may check the bellicose utterances by which Mussolini has been wont to keep up his followers' spirit in the past. To sign peace and to go on talking of war would be a somewhat discordant proceeding. Moreover, allowance should be made for the economic difficulties with which Fascism is confronted, and for the smouldering discontent of the Italian people. Despite the perils of expressing this discontent, it cannot be entirely repressed. In the old days, before the overthrow of the temporal power of the Pope, the Romans were accustomed to satirize the Pope's misgovernment by inscribing lampoons upon a statue called 'Pasquino,' near the entrance to a well-known Roman palace. After the incorporation of Rome and the Papal States in United Italy, this custom ceased. Its object had disappeared; and the name 'Pasquino' was adopted by a satirical journal. Now that Italy has reverted to a form of government less respectful of freedom than that of the Popes ever was, the habit has again turned Pasquino to account and, at the risk of penal servitude, have inscribed various satires upon his back. One of them ran, in the original Italian:

Mussolini mentisce,
Il Re non capisce,
Il Papa ammonisce,
Il Volpi s'arricchisce,
Il Popolo patisce,
Chi sa come finisce?

Or, roughly,
Mussolini tells lies,
The King lacks understanding,
The Pope admonishes,
Volpi (the Minister of Finance) enriches himself,
The People suffer,
Who knows how it will end?

The riddle of Fascism, what it portends, still is causing a good deal of speculation. Some day the "smouldering discontent" of the Italian people may burst out into flame. What then?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

AL SMITH'S CATHOLICISM
The Springfield Republican
Seen in the light of religion alone, the sooner we have a Roman Catholic President of the United States the better. There must be a Roman Catholic President eventually. If there is not, and the conviction becomes widespread that no Roman Catholic can become President because of the religious prejudice of the non-Catholic population, there will be the devil to pay. . . . The Democratic party deserves immense credit for leading the way in nominating a Roman Catholic for President.

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

DOUBLE AND REDOUBLE

The only occasions in which the partner of the doubler may remain adamant and refuse to bid, is when holding a hand that is so strong, that the doubler must be set, as when holding a suit bid of diamonds the following hand:

Spades: A K J
Hearts: X X X
Diamonds: K J 10 X X X
Clubs: X X X
Or even a trump bid when holding a strong hand as:

Spades: Q J 10
Hearts: A K J
Diamonds: K J 10
Clubs: K 10 X X

A business double is made for the purpose of setting opponents. Its object is to collect penalties.

It is generally inadvisable to make a business double unless you are reasonably certain of setting by two tricks.

In determining the possible number of tricks you can make take the following facts into consideration.

1—If you hold a freak hand, your opponents may hold a freak distribution.

2—If you are blank in a suit opponents may be blank.

3—If partner has made a pre-emptive bid you may not possibly make a defensive trick out of partner's hand.

4—If partner has made a jump ascent count the hand for little defensive value.

5—A two-suited hand is a danger signal for a double.

6—Opponents may shift to another suit do not double unless you can double the new suit.

7—If partner has made a secondary bid, do not expect to find any defensive values in partner's hand.

8—If opponents have a frame and your score is clear, it is more advisable to set by 200 points than to make the frame. If the score is frame-frame, bid for rubber unless you can set by 400 points.

Redoubles may be either business or informational.

A business redouble should seldom be made and then only if you are absolutely certain of your ground—certain you are in the position to safely double any rescue bid that may be made by opponents.

Redoubling is to be discouraged as a rule.

The informational redouble is made on two occasions, illustrations thereof being as follows:

1—First hand bids no trump, second hand doubles. You as third hand, if holding a no-trumper, may redouble to inform partner of your strength.

2—First hand bids no trump, second and third hands pass. Fourth hand doubles. First hand redoubles. This is an S.O.S. to declare's partner of the great necessity of making a declaration.

FIRE DESTROYS SEATTLE YACHT

Seattle, July 31.—Flames starting from backfire from her engine destroyed the $15,000 cruiser-yacht Eleanor Mae of Kester's Beach, two miles north of Edmonds, Sunday, despite efforts of her owner, Maurice Hoard, president of Hoard Engineering Company of Seattle, and two companions to save her.

Byron Anderson, of Seattle, in an outboard motorboat, and a number of fishing vessels, hurried to the assistance of the Eleanor Mae, and aided in the battle with the flames.

OWNER TAKES TO DINGHY
Mr. Hoard left the burning vessel in a dinghy, while his two companions were taken off by Mr. Anderson.

The fire started at 11 a.m., and soon the cruiser-yacht was a mass of flames which spread to her two fuel tanks, forward and aft, each containing 250 gallons of distillate.

Fishing craft in tandem formation towed the burning vessel into shallow water, where the battle with the flames was continued. A hole was cut in the hull of the Eleanor Mae to reach the fire, but all efforts to save the vessel were of no avail.

The engine was destroyed by the heat of the fire, and the cruiser-yacht is a total loss, Mr. Hoard said. The fuel tanks did not explode, but melted down, feeding the flames with the 500 gallons of distillate.

FACTORIES FOR PACIFIC COAST

Pronounced Movement of Industry in This Direction, Says Tacoma Man

Eastern concerns, by the opening of branch factories, are contributing to the pronounced movement of industry to the Pacific Coast, says T. A. Stevenson of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Stevenson was a speaker recently at a meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

"There is a pronounced movement of industry to the Pacific Coast," he said. "It has been going on for quite some time and is increasing in its proportions. Branch factories, warehouses, and sales offices are being opened by Eastern concerns that are being forced by competition to serve the great markets of the Pacific Coast and the countries bordering the Pacific Ocean at close range. It is becoming more and more difficult for factories located East to serve this great market from across the continent."

EASTERN CAPITAL

"California, with its large market is witnessing a pronounced industrial expansion. The rapid increase in population of Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia, is also forcing important industrial developments in this territory. Practically all of the important industrial cities on the North Pacific Coast are feeling the impetus of Eastern capital and it is causing them to make ready for the greater development that is just ahead."

"Available raw materials in the Pacific Northwest are also forcing industrial development. The pulp and paper industries are conspicuous examples of this expansion. There are no less than twenty large pulp and paper operations under way in this district at the present time."

"Enterprising Chambers of Commerce have sensed this situation and are inaugurating aggressive sales campaigns to attract Eastern capital to the Pacific Coast. Large amounts of money are being expended in advertising and surveys and in personal follow-ups as to inform the Eastern market of the opportunities in this territory."

"What inducements are these cities holding out to attract industry? Where are the factories concentrating? Which type of sales campaign is the most effective? What are the important factors in locating an industry? These are important questions before the industrial bureaus of chambers of commerce."

"A careful analysis will show that an industry locates where it can manufacture a given product and distribute it at the lowest possible cost. Take the city of Tacoma as an example. During the last year engineers representing four great industries, three from the East and one from California, came to the Pacific Northwest seeking locations for plants. In each instance the operating and distribution cost in Portland, Oregon, was computed and compared. The task assigned to these engineers was to find the place where the cost of the finished product would be lowest. In all four instances the tide flats of Tacoma were selected as the best, the most economic base for production."

NO BONUS
"Taxation, no cash bonus, no no-subsidies, no subventions of any kind. Investigation showed that the cost of industrial property, of hydro-electric power, of industrial water, of building, of living, were lower than in competing cities and that transportation facilities in Tacoma made it possible to produce a low-cost product. In other words Tacoma is an economic base for industry and business, direct or indirect, offered by competing cities."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, July 31, 1903.

After an official visit paid to northern ports, J. A. Thomson, manager of the Hudson Bay Company, returned on the steamer Cottagh City yesterday afternoon. He brought with him 780 ounces of about $13,000 worth of gold from Canada.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Moderate to fresh northerly and southerly winds, fair and warm.

To-day will see the completion of the first course of filling in the flats immediately behind the Inner Harbor retaining wall.

It is understood that the part of the Inner Harbor used as a course for the booming and outgoing tides, will be dredged to a depth of sixteen feet at low tide in accordance with the request of the board of trade council.

A channel three hundred feet wide will be dredged.

The annual open handicap tournament of the Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club is in progress, three events having been played off last week.

All of the above are in proximity to this district. Transportation facilities make it possible to sell in New York and along the Atlantic seaboard in competition with interior cities.

"The industrial development of this territory is just beginning. A careful scientific industrial programme will materially aid any city in its factory ambitions."

British Columbia is sending, through Judge Howay, a series of Capt. Cook's charts, another gift from her people.

The first day of the ceremonies will be spent in visiting Kausal Island, formerly known as Atol Island, where Capt. Cook first landed. A monument will be erected there, August 17, will see the meeting of the international representatives where Judge Howay will deliver an address. The following day the party of historians will proceed to Eschschakra Bay, where Capt. Cook was killed by savages on February 14, 1779, nearly a year after he had discovered the islands.

There are various other trips planned, and ceremonies are set for various points of historic interest.

Men-of-war from Great Britain, Australia and the United States will be off-shore during the ceremonies, as well as representatives of those countries, as well as of New Zealand, Canada and others, will attend.

The grave of Sailor Whatman, one of the crew of Capt. Cook's ship, the first white man to be buried on the islands, will be the scene of a short ceremony for it marks the spot where the Christian religion was introduced to the island.

Dr. Duncan Campbell Scott, Deputy Superintendent-General of the Department of Indian Affairs, arrived here yesterday to investigate conditions among the Indians of British Columbia. He will go to Alert Bay shortly to supervise preparations for the erection of an Indian school in connection with the Anglican Mission there.

The Canadian Government's work among Indians all over the Dominion is achieving splendid results. Dr. Scott is adding that Dr. E. L. Stone, the new director of medical service for the Indian Department, would shortly visit Victoria in the course of a study of conditions among western Indians.

Indians of western Canada are achieving new success as farmers, in the production of wheat, oats and rye on the prairies. Dr. Scott pointed out. Their agricultural output will show a large increase this year, he said.

This is Dr. Scott's first visit here in the last five years. As there are more Indians in British Columbia than in any other province except Ontario, this Province is an important centre of his work.

Dr. Scott is well-known as an author of poetry, historical biography and fiction.

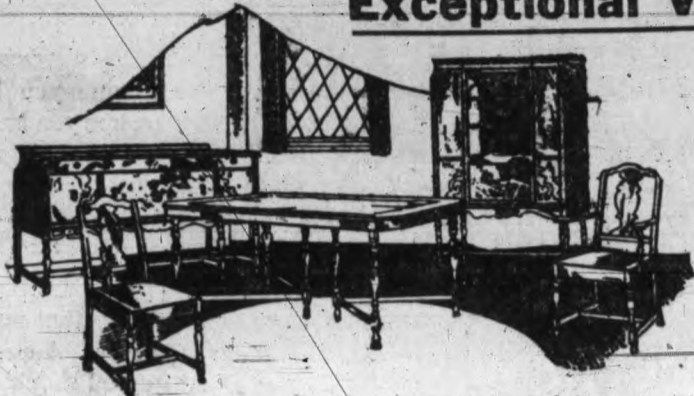

Judge Howay will also represent the Washington and Oregon Historical Societies.

NURSE'S EXPLOIT REUNITES HER WITH BROTHER

Echo of First Aid Mission to Bremen/Crew at Greenly Island

Ottawa, July 31.—How the simple story of her epic journey to the lonely spot on Greenly Island with first aid supplies for the disabled crew of the Bremen last April resulted six weeks later in a reunion with her brother, sought in vain for twenty years, is told in a local newspaper in an interview with Nurse Greta MacFerris.

Miss MacFerris, who was on nursing service with the Grenfell mission at the island when the transatlantic plane dropped down, is visiting here on vacation.

Her brother, twenty years before, had left home and disappeared from the family ten with the passing of time. It was not known whether he was dead or alive. One day a letter bearing a United States postmark was delivered to her. It was from the brother.

"What on earth are you doing up there?" was his first question.

He had read of his "little sister's" exploit and through her had bridged the gap of a score of years that separated him from his family. His travels had taken him far from the family home at Saint John, N.B., and a transatlantic flight via Greenly Island had bridged the gap.

Miss MacFerris had not met her brother yet, but intends to visit him shortly. It transpires his present home is not far from the Maritime city.

PRINCESS NOW ON TRIAL FOR THEFT

Princess Golitzine Squandered Fortune in Horse Racing

Los Angeles, July 31.—The story of how Princess Golitzine, American wife of a Russian prince, squandered a fortune of several hundred thousand dollars betting on horse races was told today in her last hearing.

The court postponed its decision to permit further medical examination.

Princess Golitzine has been accused of taking articles from a Russian film actress and failing to return either the goods or the money. She also was accused of taking furniture from rented apartments.

She testified that the once wealthy princess and her mother now are penniless.

WOMEN'S AFFAIRS

MANY BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS FOR LATE MRS. SUTHERLAND

Among the many beautiful floral tributes and messages of condolence received in connection with the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Lillian Margaret Sutherland, wife of Hon. W. B. Sutherland, late mayor of Victoria, were those from Lord and Lady Willington, Rt. Hon. W. L. Royals Beaten When Ranks Are Riddled By Internal Strife

Dicky Stobart, Delaney and Russell, Three Stars of New Westminster Soccer Team, Do Not Take Field for Second Match in Canadian Championship and Montreal Nationals Breeze Through to Close Win; Substitutes Try Hard But Half-back Line Wobbles

Winnipeg, July 31.—A brilliant bit of combination play in which Finlayson, McGuire and Coule were the actors brought the Montreal Nationals to victory in the second match of the Dominion football championship here last night. The final score was: Montreal 2; New Westminster Royals 1.

With the score tied at the interval at one-all, the Nationals took the defensive, breaking up many spirited rushes of the Royals, but twenty minutes after the final half started the three Montreal stars got in perfect position and after a thrilling combination attack, Coule drove in a hard driving shot close to the post, that beat Sanford, the New Westminster goalie.

LOST THREE MEN

Handicapped by the retirement of three fast men—Stobart, Delaney and Russell—the Royals battled bravely and especially in the first fifteen minutes of the final session staged some fiery attacks, but from then on they tired quickly and were on the defensive at the close of the match.

According to an official explanation, injuries to Stobart, Delaney and Russell caused their retirement last night, but unofficially, it was reported that there was dissatisfaction among the coast players and that the three stars would not play in the remaining match of the series to be played Wednesday evening.

WON ON THEIR MERITS

On merit the Nationals won. They were the better team, but the change in the lineup was disastrous for the Royals, though the sub players put up a good showing and worked hard.

Weather conditions with high winds and showers was none too good for the match, but more than five thousand fans were present to watch the play.

The play during the first half was slightly in favor of Montreal, who won the toss and took advantage of the wind. The exchanges opened fast and within ten minutes the Nationals were one goal up.

SCORES ON KNEE-HIGH SHOT

McGuire beat Sanford with a fast knee-high shot. The Westminster custodian made little or no effort to clear, and after the Royals' goal had undergone a severe bombardment, Sanford tipped a hard shot from Williams over the bar.

At the end of twenty-five minutes the teams were on an equal footing. A movement, opening in the Westminster half, terminated with a beautiful cross from the foot of Coule. It was the best goal of the series.

With the score tied, the clubs settled down to hard football. The wind played tricks with the ball. It was hard to control and it was practically impossible to get it out to the flanks.

Neither side was able to add to the score and the interval arrived with the score standing one each.

With the wind against them, the Nationals were soon on the defensive. Barnes standing up well under the pressure, but the spirited raids of Westminster gradually died away.

TURNING POINT

The turning point of the game came when Coule, after twenty minutes play in the second half, placed the Nationals in the lead. It was a nice team goal in which Finlayson, McGuire and Coule figured. The left flank man finished the play by shooting in a hard drive close to the post, that beat Sanford all the way. Westminster could not get going although Rimmer, who took the place of Russell, worked hard.

The forwards, with Smith at outside right and Kerr at inside left, got to grips with their opponents in the manner that stamped them as Dominion champions.

The line-ups were: Montreal—Nelson; Barnes and Swan; Henderson, Kerr and Duguid; Williams, Neilson, Finlayson, McGuire and Coule. Westminster—Sanford; Taylor and Anderson; Strang, Rimmer and Trotter; Smith, Kerr, Coulter, Turner and Chapman.

Referee—Sandy McMahon.

Premier Cables Percy Williams Congratulations

British Columbia's congratulations were cabled by Premier MacLean to-day to Percy Williams, Vancouver boy, on his success in winning the 100-metre race at the Olympic Games in Amsterdam yesterday.

"British Columbia congratulates you," the Premier said in his cable to Williams.

"The people of this Province have reason to feel proud in Williams' achievement, which has been acclaimed by the whole world," the Premier said as he forwarded British Columbia's message of congratulation.

WILL WILLIAMS CROSS BORDER?

Reports Have It That Vancouver Olympic Champ Will Be Sought By U. of W.

U.S. Universities or Clubs Will Make Effort to Get Him Across Line

Will Percy Williams, the Vancouver school boy who achieved international fame yesterday by winning the final of the 100 metres at the Olympic games at Amsterdam, be persuaded to cross the border and compete under the colors of some American university or club?

That appears to be a very hot question this morning. The Americans, if they cannot produce a winner themselves, will go out in the open market and get one, some way or another. They took Cyril Coe, formerly of Winnipeg, and recognized as Canada's premier sprinter until Williams flashed into fame, and established him in Chicago.

U. OF W. WANT HIM

It appears that the University of Washington would like to get Williams. Judging from the following comment which appears in The Seattle P-I, this morning:

"It is known that Washington has made legitimate efforts to have Williams matriculate here when he finishes his prep work. Perhaps Coach Hec Edmundson, now at Amsterdam, who watched Williams lead the field yesterday on the soft Dutch track, has already revealed to the youth the advantages of a Washington education.

Rufe Kiser, miler, and Steve Anderson, high hurdler and an Olympic favorite in this event, are sophomores. Williams would be a fresh next year. But in Anderson's and Kiser's senior years he would be eligible for the varsity competition. Give him these three and others he will develop, and watch Washington become I.C.A.A.A. and N.C.A.A. champion in 1929."

Sons Will Meet C.P.R. To-morrow In Lacrosse Test

"It will be a hot game I can assure you," said Leonard Tait, president of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League, in commenting upon the game to-day.

FORCE OF HABIT—HE LEARNED TO PLAY ON A MUNICIPAL COURSE!

THE THIRTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS OF THE PROVINCE GOT AWAY TO A GLORIOUS START YESTERDAY AT THE WILLOWS. FAVORED WITH PERFECT WEATHER CONDITIONS, THE CONTESTANTS PLIED BALL WITH RACQUET FROM EARLY MORN TILL DUSK BEFORE AN ENTHUSIASTIC GALLERY.

Chief interest centred on the defence put up by the locals against the army of invading stars with awe-inspiring reputations and games to match them. In almost every case the visitors rivaled each other in putting away their opponents with a speed and thoroughness that left little to be desired, but a few of the weaker visitors suffered set-backs during the day.

WILL MISS GRIFFIN

General disappointment was felt over the default of Clarence J. Peck, Griffin, who was forced to return to San Francisco from Vancouver in a hurry. Joe Coughlin was also an eleventh-hour absentee along with Angus Chis of Seattle. Griffin's departure will, to some extent, spoil the balance of the draw. He was placed in the first quarter, and in his absence Stan Almqvist should reach the semi-finals along with Harrison, Turrene and Johnny Risco, the defending champion. The most notable local victory occurred in the men's doubles, where Leech and Campbell repulsed Dowell and McIntyre in three close sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

A Heavy Hitter — By Jimmy Thompson

ME HAS BEAT EM AT WESTPOINT YALE, HARVARD AND THE U.S. NAVY'S BEST

Canada is represented in the 185-pound boxing class at Amsterdam by Don Carrick, an all-round athlete from University of Toronto. Judging from his recent showing at the trials in Montreal where he knocked out the husky Ratelle, pride of the Montreal police force, Carrick will not have to take any one-sided punishment when he rubs gloves with the world's best at the Olympics. He used his head, as well as his muscle, and has plenty of both. And he is seen at his best when in a tight corner. Don, who got his early training at St. Andrew's College, has in recent years collected quite a string of scalps. During 1926-27 he licked Hornsbaek, United States army champion, at West Point; likewise the United States navy champion at Annapolis, also Taylor of McGill for the Canadian intercollegiate championship. He also defeated the United States army heavyweight champion. When he had fairly beaten Leuty of the United States navy in four rounds at Annapolis, naval officers protested, and the judges ordered an extra round. To clinch the matter, Don stepped in and whipped the half dazed Leuty round the ring so severely that the latter was unable to lay a glove on him. For all of which Carrick looks like a sure point winner at the Olympics.

Tunney Announces His Retirement From Ring

New York, July 31.—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion boxer, announced his retirement from the ring to-day at a luncheon given in honor of William Muldoon, eighty-two-year-old member of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"I have fought my last bout as a professional boxer," his statement said.

Staging a "farewell party" to the commissioner and fifty newspapermen, Tunney declared definitely that the time had come to step out of the game that made him a millionaire. Reports that Tunney was to retire had been circulated since he crushed Tom Heeney at the Yankee Stadium last Thursday night.

CRICKET TEAMS IN GREAT TEST

Tillicums and Five C's Play To-morrow In Game Which May Decide Title

Centre of interest for followers of the Wednesday Cricket League to-morrow afternoon will be the match between the Five C's and Tillicums at Beacon Hill. This match will have a considerable bearing on the championship.

The Tillicums now hold a three-point lead on the Five C's but a win for the latter to-morrow will tie up the two clubs and make the last part of the schedule extremely interesting. Should the Tillicums defeat the Five C's they are likely to land their second consecutive championship.

EXPECT FINE MATCH

The match should produce some very good cricket. The Five C's have strengthened considerably for this match while the Tillicums are mustering their best side.

The other match scheduled to-morrow is between the Hudson's Bay and the tail-end, Tracy-Verrill eleven, which sprang a surprise last week by defeating the Five C's. This match will be played at the Jubilee grounds.

CANUCKS DO WELL TO-DAY

Continue to Run Well at Olympic Games, With Sprinters Showing Way

Amsterdam, July 31.—Following results are of the events in which Canadians competed at the Olympic games to-day:

500 Metres Preliminary: John Pitts, Hamilton, second, 22 4-5 seconds. The Hamilton man was up against four competitors in this event. In the quarter-finals, United States won; R. Adams, Hamilton, second, 22 1-5 seconds. The heat in which Adams was engaged was run in comparatively fast time, and the Canadian had something in reserve when he followed. Scholz over the line. Adams ran easily.

Percy Williams, Vancouver, won; Hambridge, Britain, second, 22 3-5 seconds.

Williams, 100-metre titleholder, easily won his heat with a margin of six yards.

W. B. Legg, South Africa, won; Barraco, Argentina, second, George Hester, Hamilton, ran second, but was disqualified, 22 3-5 seconds.

800 Metres—Phil Edwards, Hamilton, fourth.

5,000 Metres Preliminary: four to qualify—W. Kibble White, Winnipeg, traveled well to the third lap of his heat, when he dropped back nearly to last position, and found it impossible to recover. Lermond, of the United States, won the heat in 15 minutes 23-5 seconds. Art Keay, Toronto, also was eliminated, duplicating Kibble White's performance in another heat.

Amsterdam, July 31.—Lloyd C. Appleton of the United States defeated Morris Letford of Montreal in the semi-finals of the 150-pound wrestling class at the Olympic games to-day.

Kapp of Estonia threw Clarence Berryman, American, in the quarter-finals of the 145-pound class of the Olympic catch-as-catch-can wrestling to-day.

In the quarter finals of the 150-pound class, Lloyd C. Appleton of Edgewood, Ia., defeated Fraks of Estonia by a technical fall. Fraks's shoulder was injured and he was forced to retire.

This completed the quarter finals, leaving the United States with a man in six of the seven divisions.

In the first semi-final bout, Robert Hewitt of Michigan defeated Piguet of Switzerland by a decision.

Members of Road Club Hold Run To Bellingham

On Sunday the Island Road Club held one of the most interesting runs of the season, when the members traveled to Bellingham, Wash., and from there to Anacortes along the famous Chuckanut Drive, returning via the ferry again to Sidney. The event proved very popular with the members and in view of the good attendance and splendid scenery, the club has been decided to hold similar trips by the ferries during the summer months.

All members are asked to turn out and participate in an interesting event to be run on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, starting at the corner of Hillside Avenue and Quadra Streets. The event will take the form of a speed judging contest to Hamsterly Lake, and two novel prizes are being awarded to those riders making the best forecasts by the management of that popular resort. Further particulars can be obtained from the secretary.

Athletics Have Yanks Worried As They Step Right On Their Heels

Miller Huggins, Boss of World's Champions, Greatly Worried as His Pitching Staff Collapses; Connie Mack's Athletics Now Only Five and One-half Games Behind Yankees; Giants Move Into Third Place in National League and Pittsburgh Go Into Fifth Berth

No, boy, those wrinkles you see corrugating Miller Huggins' brow are not due to old age. They are a sign that the manager of the New York Yankees is doing his best worrying of the season. His anxiety of the present moment, however, is somewhat justified.

The complete collapse of the champions' pitching staff in the last week has cut what was an eleven-game lead over the Philadelphia Athletics to five and one-half games.

The Yankees lost their third straight game to the Indians at Cleveland yesterday, 4 to 2, when Miller outpitched Pipgras. Babe Ruth hit his forty-first homer of the year, but it was of little service.

Meanwhile the St. Louis Browns lost to the Athletics, 5 to 4. It was the Athletics' eighth straight victory.

Thomas, with the Chicago White Sox, downed the Senators, 6 to 0, allowing Washington seven scattered hits.

The Boston Red Sox fell deeper into the cellar when the Detroit Tigers gave them another beating, 2 to 1, in a pitchers' battle between Holloway and Ed. Morris.

CHANGE PLACES

In the National League, the New York Giants replaced the Chicago Cubs in third place and the Pittsburgh Pirates ousted Brooklyn from fifth place. The two leaders, the St. Louis Cards and the Cincinnati Reds, held their relative positions, however, for both picked the same day to lose.

Jim Faulkner held the Cubs to four hits and the Giants, aided by Homers and Ott, advanced to a 4 to 1 victory.

The Pirates swept into fifth place, trimming the Boston Braves in a double-header, 3 to 1 and 6 to 5, in ten innings. Kemer outpitched Ed. Brandt in the first game. Triples by Paul Waner and Phil Traynor decided the second game.

WENT SIXTEEN INNINGS

The Phillies required sixteen innings and four runs to subdue the Cards 8-7. Fred Leach crossed the plate with the winning run on a single by Virgil Davis. Cardinal catcher, Bob McGraw, another former Cardinal, received credit for the Phillies' victory.

Left-handers held the stage at Brooklyn, where Jess Fetty shaded Rixey and gave the Robins a 2-1 victory over the Reds.

Yesterday's results were:

5-7, 6-4. McIntyre, a Vancouver youngster, was also eliminated in the singles by Noel Radford, 6-2, 6-1, but Dowell was a little too good for one of the local cracks, Eric McCallum, whom he defeated 6-4, 6-4.

FEATURE MATCH

The feature match of the day saw Larry Driscoll, of San Francisco, nose out Gerald Cunningham of Trail, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3, after a grueling struggle. The former Victorian drew rounds of applause from the gallery by his spectacular shots, but Driscoll had a slight edge over him in strokes which enabled him to get home in the final set. The southerner advanced continually to the net behind fast flat drives, and although Cunningham's passing shots were working to perfection, they were not, in the long run, quite a match for the winner's dashing net game. Both men played attractive, hard-hitting tennis and Cunningham should be hard to beat for the consolation singles title.

JUNIORS SPRING SURPRISE

One of the best matches occurred late in the day before a nearly empty grandstand. Miss Joan List, the under-fifteen and under-sixteen champion of British Columbia, and her Seattle partner, "Bank" Prusoff, present P.N.W. junior titleholder, sprang quite a surprise by taking the first set of their match with Mrs. Goida Meyer Gross and Stan Almquist, who were runners-up in Vancouver last week. The juniors slipped a bit in the last two sets, which they lost 6-2, 6-3, but only after a struggle. Prusoff was the outstanding member of the quartette, but Miss List, although playing a good game, was a little weak for such fast company. Several comedy touches and a lively dialogue between "Bank" and "Stan" added color to the proceedings. Both have exceptionally good services, possibly the best to be seen here this week.

NO UPSETS

The seeded men, Almquist, Harrison, Turrene, Risco, Lockwood, Prusoff and Langlie, all breezed through their first round tilts, while Miss Hunt, Mrs. Gross and Miss Mary Campbell, seeded in that order among the ladies, did the same.

Miss Marion Hunt, the California junior ace, was especially impressive, as she took twelve straight games from Miss Haines. Miss Elizabeth Wiel, another southern junior, also advanced.

None of these players are likely to be extended for several days, until some of the "weaker sisters" are eliminated. Nearly all the leading local players advanced, and several of the Victoria youngsters should make things very interesting for the favorites when they meet.

LIKE LOCAL COURTS

The visitors were loud in their praise of the courts, which have, indeed, never been in better shape. Many were of the opinion that they are the best turf courts on the Coast.

Two promising matches are slated for this afternoon: Dowell meets Lockwood at 4 o'clock, while Sid Smith and Driscoll clash with Risco and Almquist an hour later.

SCHEME TO PUT MINERS ON LAND

Unemployed of Britain May Come to Canadian Farms,
Says Lord Lovat

London, July 31.—"We have every reason to believe the Canadian Government is thoroughly friendly to our scheme," declared Lord Lovat, British Under-Secretary of State for the Dominions, to the Canadian Press here yesterday in connection with his departure for Canada next Saturday to confer with the Ottawa authorities on a proposal to train idle British miners in Britain for farm work in Canada.

New training centres would be opened in a few weeks here, he said, and it was hoped something like 20,000 miners and their families would be ready next Spring after taking a course leading from nine to sixteen weeks. While the head of a family was being trained a grant of $4.25 a week to his wife and fifty cents for each child would be made by the British Government. As soon as the miner is prepared to take up a homestead himself the British Government would be prepared to grant him $500 if he could secure a similar amount from other sources, and considering the activities of voluntary immigration societies, this should not be difficult, Lord Lovat thought.

HOUSES FOR FAMILIES

Lord Lovat said he naturally was unable to indicate the precise line of discussion between himself and the Dominion and Provincial migration authorities, but he indicated that for one thing he had special belief cottages would be provided on farms to house the new migrants until they obtained the necessary experience qualifying them for permanent settlement.

It was intended that each miner going to Canada under this scheme would be assured of a year's definite employment and of course the grants indicated would not be paid unless the men were permanently settled on the land, Lord Lovat said. He admitted he had no idea yet whether the miners themselves would take kindly to the scheme. "But it surely ought to appeal to the men," he added, "for they will have to find only $10 passage money and after they are accepted they will be assured a year's employment by the Canadian authorities."

ITALIA PARTY PASSES THROUGH SOUTH GERMANY

Munich, Germany, July 31.—General Umberto Nobile and the other rescued Italian explorers of the lost North Pole dirigible Italia arrived at Munich last night and were greeted at the railway station by several hundred members of the Italian colony.

What appeared to be an incipient demonstration against the Italians was promptly quelled by police. The general paid no attention and left the car to converse with several of his countrymen.

U.S. Government Setting Up Lights Between Seattle and
San Francisco

Portland, Ore., July 31.—Beacon lights placed at intervals of not more than ten miles will light the airway between Seattle and San Francisco within four or five months and pilots will be able to follow the course safely by night, according to S. S. Boggs, airway extension superintendent of the United States Department of Commerce.

Standard beacons of the twenty-four-inch revolving type of 3,000,000 candlepower, will be used. The towers will be fifty-one feet high, except that where trees are plentiful some 100-foot towers will be erected.

Besides establishing the beacons, the department is surveying the airways, and will make sure that intermediate landing fields are available at intervals of not more than twenty-five miles.

HERTZOG DEBATES DOMINION'S PLACE

Premier Says South Africa
Could Name Its Own
Governor-General

London, July 31.—The Johannesburg correspondent of The London Daily Mail says Premier J. B. Hertzog, of the Union of South Africa, stated in an interview that the Union possessed the right to appoint its own Governor-General, though he doubted whether the time was ripe for such action.

Asked if the country was bound to accept the King's successor as its sovereign ruler, the Premier replied: "We do not accept the King of England, but the crown."
Remarking he had nothing to say as to who would be king, the Premier added: "We could do away with all kings to-morrow and in a measure abolish the kingship, but the English in South Africa would protest and many of the Dutch would support them. The former might take to weapons and rebel. They might force South Africa to remain under a king."

Gen. Nobile Has No Plans For Another North Pole Flight

Copenhagen, July 31.—The newspaper Morgenbladet says that while General Umberto Nobile was here with the survivors of the lost North Pole dirigible Italia, he answered at least one question relating to the disaster. A reporter of The Morgenbladet inquired whether the report was correct that he contemplated another North Pole expedition "to re-establish Italy's honor."

The general's features hardened and his eyes flashed wrathfully as he replied with scorn:

"The honor of Italy? So they think the honor of Italy must be re-established? That is not necessary. The honor of Italy is intact. No, I have made no further plans."

MISER; a covetous person, especially one having wealth who lives miserably to increase his hoard.
—Webster

No, a miser is not an economist. Misers, for example, would never use Wakefield CASTROL Motor Oil, because it costs a few cents a quart more than ordinary oils.

A miser wouldn't spend his money to learn that while CASTROL costs a little more, it gives the car double, treble, four times the mileage before an oil change is necessary.

Castrol Users are Thrifty Men

More and more thinking motorists are today using CASTROL, because CASTROL gives greater mileage, and also provides perfect lubrication under every condition.

CHRYSLER Plymouth

Plymouth 4-Door Sedan, $915

CANADA ACCEPTS AND ACCLAIMS THE NEW PLYMOUTH

The sales record of the new Plymouth, established in two weeks' time, is without parallel or precedent for a car in this field—not in a few retail centers but all over the whole country.

Hundreds of thousands—eager to see the new Plymouth, built by Chrysler to compete in the lowest-priced field—are thronging Chrysler salesrooms everywhere.

They compare it with the three or four other cars catering to the same great market.

They see contrast in size, style, performance and safety so sharply in favor of Plymouth that curiosity bursts into enthusiasm, enthusiasm is transformed into sales.

These hosts of motorists find in the new Plymouth, with its "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine using any gasoline, characteristic Chrysler performance linked with smoothness, comfort of riding and an ease of handling typical of much more expensive cars.

They recognize that no other car under $1500 is equipped with internal expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes, efficient in any weather.

In short, hundreds of thousands seeking a low first cost now discover in the new Plymouth the one car in the lowest-priced field which is and does everything that they have long hoped a low-priced car would be and do.

You, too, owe it to yourself to see it, ride in it, drive it. All doubt as to the highest dollar-for-dollar value in the lowest-priced field ends right there.

ACTION IS CRITICIZED

Councillor A. Lockley Protests Abolition of Esquimalt Public Works Committee

Abolition of the public works committee and the appointment of the council as a whole to act in its place, with Councillor R. Smith as chairman, featured the meeting of the Esquimalt council held last night with Reeve James Elrick in the chair.

This action drew considerable criticism from Councillor Alex. Lockley, former chairman of the committee. The committee had carried out the work in the best possible manner, the councillor declared.

Street car service to Esquimalt was brought up for discussion, and considerable criticism was leveled at the British Columbia Electric Railway Company. The council members were of the opinion they could get better service from a reliable bus company.

In an effort to obtain a more frequent service a committee was appointed to interview A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway. The council also passed a motion to consult the municipal solicitor to ascertain whether it had the power to grant a concession to a bus line.

Reeve James Elrick and Councillor S. A. Pomeroy were chosen by the council to attend the Union of Municipalities convention at Trail, September 12 and 13.

COLONIST STAFF ENJOYS PICNIC

Members of Newspaper's Three Departments Frolic at Gathering

Resting from the responsibilities of their positions, men and women who work in the atmosphere of printer's ink and newspaper paper, from three departments of the Victoria Colonist, together with friends, attended their second annual picnic at the Gorge on Sunday.

From shortly before noon the picnickers enjoyed a programme of sports, starting with aquatic events which were run off before 1 o'clock. After lunch the field events were contested, the greatest of all these being the tug-of-war competition, with four teams competing. After an early supper, two teams one from the editorial rooms and another from the business office, fought a grueling game of soft ball out to a sensational finish. The latter, through their terrific hitting, piled up a heavy lead, which had established them superior at the time the game was called on account of darkness by Umpires R. C. Lowe and Herbert Ansoncomb.

Mr. Ansoncomb and Mr. Lowe were judges for the sporting events with A.

HAIL AND WIND CAUSE LOSSES ON PRAIRIE

Kincaid, Sask. July 31.—The worst hail and wind storm experienced in the history of the district of Kincaid occurred at 7 o'clock last evening, leaving behind a trail of desolation and broken windows. Promising crops for miles around were laid low as if a moving machine had gone over them, and gardens were pounded to pulp by the hail, which fell for about fifteen minutes.

A terrific windstorm preceded the hail, tearing the roof off the public school and shattering part of the school walls. For a considerable distance east of the town telephone poles were blown down and communication with the surrounding country was disrupted. The main street here is covered with debris, torn from the surrounding buildings by the cyclonic wind and practically every residence in town has most of its windows broken by the hail.

SOVIET UNION

AND KELLOGG

PACT DISCUSSED

London, July 31.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons on the subject of a possible invitation to Soviet Russia to adhere to the Kellogg outlay of war pact, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, said he did not think any suggestions on the matter were called for from Great Britain.

"The issuance of invitations would seem to be a matter for the United States Government in consultation with the French Government, since the signatories to the pact are the United States and France."

Asked if the United States should propose sending an invitation to Russia whether Great Britain would support the proposal, Sir Austen replied: "No, I would not support it and neither would I object to it."

ISLAND EGG MEN HOLD UP POOL ACTION

Will Get Further Data Before Entering New Co-operative Scheme

Before entering the new British Columbia egg pool, poultrymen of Vancouver Island decided at a meeting in the Parliament Buildings last night to secure further data on this organization and its proposed methods of operation.

Decision to postpone definite action on the pool scheme was reached after a lengthy discussion among leading poultrymen from all parts of the Island. While Mainland egg men already have proceeded to launch the pool and are seeking the co-operation of Island producers, it was felt here that to proceed too fast might get the pool off to a bad start.

Supper will be served at 6 o'clock, and the outing will be terminated with a dance in the Keating Hall.

St. Princess Patricia will take an excursion to Vancouver on August 2nd.

The committee appointed to go into the pool question will consist of the following:

Messrs. Borden, of Lake Hill; Love, of Langford; Goodall, of Laxton; Stonier, of Tuckett, of Royal Oak; Jefferys, of Langford; McLean, of Colwood, and Georgeon, of Gordon Head.

Mainland delegates in attendance at last night's meeting explained that the pool scheme would segregate British Columbia egg men from the eggs of all other provinces in Eastern Canadian and world markets. Thus it would be possible for British Columbia eggs to bring a higher price than the eggs of some other provinces, provided conditions were favorable.

SOCKEYE RUN DISAPPOINTS FISH EXPERT

Babcock Finds Catch in North Far Below Official Expectations

Runs of sockeye salmon to the northern rivers of British Columbia, now drawing to a close, have been far below expectations, but the runs of pinks and chums are large, according to a preliminary report filed to-day by John P. Babcock, Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries for British Columbia, with Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Commissioner. Mr. Babcock's report, framed after a careful investigation in the North, offers the first authentic indication of the season's fishing prospects for British Columbia.

IS DISAPPOINTING

Mr. Babcock said in his report: "The runs of sockeye salmon to our northern waters this season have been distinctly disappointing. The sockeye catches in the Skeena, River and at Rivers Inlet are far below the forecasts of the Department and the anticipations of the fishermen and the canners.

On the other hand, the runs of pinks and chum salmon to all our northern waters are large, very large. All the canneries were being operated to capacity last week, though the season for pinks has but just begun. This is a "pink" year. The runs should continue for another month and the total pack be a large one. What is equally important is that the fish are large and in prime condition. A finer lot of pinks and chums were never taken from any waters.

ESTIMATES NOT FULFILLED

"The runs of sockeye to the Skeena and Rivers Inlet, consisting of four-year and five-year-old fish—hence the runs this year are composed of fish hatched in 1923 and 1924, the brood-years of this season's runs. The department's estimates for 1928 were based on the catches made and on the reports from the spawning areas of these two years. Both were most promising.

The catches made in the Skeena and at Rivers Inlet in 1923 and 1924 produced packs of 131,000 and 144,000 cases, both above the average, and the reports after an inspection of the spawning grounds were equally promising. All the indications were favorable for good runs of sockeye, but the returns for the season (and the season is virtually over) indicate that the total sockeye pack on the Skeena will be less than 60,000 cases, and that on the Skeena the peak week—the high boat catch of sockeye was less than 500, and the average per boat was less than 70.

RIVERS INLET DOWN

"The catches of sockeye at Rivers Inlet, while more satisfactory than on the Skeena, were very disappointing. The runs to Rivers Inlet was also drawn from the catches made and on the reports from the spawning areas of these two years. Both were most promising.

The catches made in the Skeena and at Rivers Inlet in 1923 and 1924 produced packs of 131,000 and 144,000 cases, both above the average, and the reports after an inspection of the spawning grounds were equally promising. All the indications were favorable for good runs of sockeye, but the returns for the season (and the season is virtually over) indicate that the total sockeye pack on the Skeena will be less than 60,000 cases, and that on the Skeena the peak week—the high boat catch of sockeye was less than 500, and the average per boat was less than 70.

AT SMITH'S INLET

"The runs of sockeye to Smith's Inlet have been most satisfactory. The catches made in the Skeena and at Rivers Inlet in 1923 and 1924 produced packs of 131,000 and 144,000 cases, both above the average, and the reports after an inspection of the spawning grounds were equally promising. All the indications were favorable for good runs of sockeye, but the returns for the season (and the season is virtually over) indicate that the total sockeye pack on the Skeena will be less than 60,000 cases, and that on the Skeena the peak week—the high boat catch of sockeye was less than 500, and the average per boat was less than 70.

As stated, this is a year in which the pink salmon usually run in large numbers to all our northern waters. The season has just begun and all the canneries from Rivers Inlet up to and including the Nass River were being operated to capacity last week. There is every indication that the pink and chum pack will be a large one. It will be recalled that the pack two years ago—1926—was over 100,000 cases, and the average per boat was seventy per cent of pinks and chums."

John Allan to See How West Has Grown Since Hard 1883 Days

John Allan, who was one of the first men to raise and market wheat in Western Canada, is setting out to-day with his wife on a tour of the Prairies to see how the country has developed since 1883 when he hauled his first crop from three acres sixty miles to Brandon and got fifty cents a bushel for it.

"Those were the real, hard-working days," Mr. Allan said. "But we stuck to it, because we believed that we were in on the start of the making of a great country. Now as we look over what has happened since, we know that we were right."

From the first three wagon loads of wheat Mr. Allan hauled in the early days, the grain production of the Allan family has increased so that during the last twenty years his eight sons together have averaged a trainload of wheat a year shipped to market over Canadian Pacific lines.

Mr. Allan plans to visit Fort William on his trip to see the first elevator built there in which he turned on the power in 1885.

SMALL OWNERS PREPAY TAXES

Increase in Small Payments Offsets Absence of Major Sums

Prepaid city taxes for the current year have already attained $322,185.14, an additional "interest credit" of almost $10,000.

While this sum is slightly lower than the receipts from prepaid taxes at the end of July last year, the record shows that more small property and home owners are taking advantage of the plan.

In July, 1927, the city had received $408,882 in prepaid taxes, including large sums paid by the Canadian Pacific Railway, the British Columbia Electric Railway, most of the banks and many eastern financial institutions, owning or controlling property in Victoria.

This year many of those large payments have not been received by the city, but the continued increase of taxpayers have increased heavily in the aggregate, almost offsetting the drop in large payments, the comparative shortage being $21,704.

Civic officials are pleased with the change in beneficiaries as the city pays six per cent on prepaid taxes to help encourage small payments. The chief benefit to the city from the prepaid tax system is that small taxpayers get their city accounts paid early, and omission of large corporations to take advantage of the plan this year has saved the city a substantial sum.

ALMQUIST IS BEATEN BY LANGLE

Californian Suffers Defeat at Hands of Seattle Youth 8-6, 6-3

Bud Hocking Loses to Turenne 6-2, 6-3; Steve Jones Eliminated

Stan Almquist's defeat by "Windy" Langle was the big surprise of this morning's play at the Willows in the British Columbia tennis tourney. The Seattle man won in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, and is now favored to reach the semi-finals in Griffin's absence.

Almquist was handicapped by a bad cold, and seemed lethargic and far from his best, while Langle's well-placed chops offered no target for the flat drives of the seeded Californian.

Leonie Turenne of Seattle eliminated another local hope in the person of Bud Hocking, who was able to garner five games against his flashy opponent. Both men mixed spectacular placements with inexcusable errors.

Miss Doreen Swayne, the British Columbia junior champion, put up a good fight in the second set of her match with Mrs. Cecilia Meyer Gross, seeded lady star. The score was 6-4, 6-4.

SPRING SURPRISE

J. Bowden sprang a mild surprise by trimming Steve Jones in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3. Bowden was too steady for his younger opponent.

Miss Cruickshank and Miss Hunt, who are favored to reach the finals of the ladies' singles, both advanced by top heavy scores.

THE RESULTS FOLLOW:

MEN'S SINGLES

Turenne beat Hocking, 6-2, 6-3.

W. Langle beat Almquist, 8-6, 6-3.

Bowden beat S. Jones, 6-3, 6-3.

C. Hodgson beat Erickson, 6-1, 6-1.

Prusoff beat McLaughlin, 6-2, 6-0.

Campbell beat Shakespeare, 6-2, 6-2.

LADIES' SINGLES

Miss McNab beat Miss N. Wilson, 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Campbell beat Mrs. McDonald, 6-0, 6-0.

Mrs. Gross beat Miss Swayne, 6-0, 6-4.

Miss Rithet beat Mrs. List, 6-2, 6-3.

Miss Cruickshank beat Miss H. Wilson, 6-1, 6-0.

EXPECT ACTION ON FARM LOANS

Ottawa About to Put Agricultural Credits Scheme Into Effect Here

British Columbia farmers are bombarding the Department of Agriculture here with request for loans under Federal farm loan legislation, as adopted by the Provincial Legislature.

The Province is ready to proceed with the inauguration of the scheme immediately, but so far the Federal authorities have not moved finally to put it into effect, it was stated at the department.

In reply to a recent letter on the subject, officials of the Dominion Finance Department indicated that the whole question would go before Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, shortly with a view to the creation of the machinery which will administer loans all over Canada. Early action to make credits available in British Columbia is expected here.

Williams Will Run for Canada In 200 Metres

Amsterdam, July 31 (By Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Percy Williams, Vancouver school boy, who won the 100-metre championship at the Olympic Games here yesterday, will be out for a double triumph in the sprint to-morrow when he competes with the world's sprinting stars, including John Fitzpatrick of Hamilton, Ont., in the 200 metres.

These two members of the Canadian team qualified for the final to-day by securing places in the preliminary and semi-final heats.

MANY DRIVERS FINED TO-DAY

Twenty-five motorists paid $5 fines in the City Police Court this morning for violating the new arterial highway regulations. Victoria police have now commenced to enforce the new law, and during the present week no less than 300 motorists will appear in court, charged with failure to stop at arterial highways.

Eight motorists pleaded not guilty to the charges to-day and out of this number three were found guilty, one case was dismissed, one withdrawn, two were found not to be the drivers of the cars in question, while one case was set over until to-morrow in order to give the accused an opportunity to obtain a witness.

Most of the motorists pleaded guilty to the charges, while some declared they had broken the law unintentionally.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited (leased wire)

Winnipeg, July 31.—Wheat: The wheat market was a nervous local affair to-day with prices acting erratic within a comparatively narrow range. Trade volume was mostly bearish, and the local crowd was mostly bearish, and they are afraid to press the short side to any extent and quickly run to cover. Prices were mostly lower, breaking one cent under the previous close, although at one time they were fractionally higher. On the break the market appeared to run into speculative resting orders, which caused quick reaction. Chicago interests sold a little wheat here early, but the volume of business was largely of a spreading character. Seaboard houses were credited probably 500,000 bushels being worked overnight.

The last day of contract month witnessed no fireworks and the July future in all grains passed away quietly and lower, especially oats and barley. In the cash market there was a moderate demand from shippers for most grades except the No. 3 Northern, but trade volume was quite small, due to the light offerings, and spreads were about unchanged to one-quarter better. Further rains were received in Western Saskatchewan and in Alberta, while temperatures were generally cooler. The forecast predicted northerly winds and cool temperatures to-day and Wednesday. There is not much danger of frost, still this fear is hanging over the market now for a few days, and prevents any selling pressure. Otherwise conditions in Western Canada are excellent. The Canadian carry-over is expected to be around 80,000,000 bushels, the largest on record.

Coarse grains: There was scattered liquidation in July oats, barley and rye, and it was evident that all shorts had covered previously as this future passed out weak. Deferred futures were steady, although trade was quite small. Seaboard reported a little export business in rye. There is a big crop of oats and barley in Canada this year, barley being about ready for the binder and heading pressure should be in evidence in another two weeks. Believe the coarse grains are too high compared with wheat.

Flax: Continued dull and featureless, trade very small.

Chicago Grain

By B.C. Bond Corporation
Chicago, July 31.—Wheat—Carry-over figures as of July 1 were released at Washington to-day and showed a total carry-over of 80,000,000 bushels more than last year in all positions. The heavy carry-over in Canada has deprived us of such early export business as was done last year, and prospects for a crop somewhat larger than a year ago leads to lack of interest abroad in United States wheat for autumn shipments.

Importing countries will probably need as much as or more wheat than they took from exporting countries during the past twelve months, but with a crop neighborly to a clear-cut and bumper sale across the border it looks as though we would either have a keep our good on the shelf for a while or go into cut throat competition on a price basis.

Corn: With July closing higher at 115¢, and at Kansas City at the dollar mark, a rather unusual month has come to an end. Corn usually held until late August or September has come to market in volume induced by a price which shorts have had to pay as a penalty for their rashness and dilatory tactics. We consider the last ten cents of the advance as such a penalty, but believe that corn is worth around 105¢ for the balance of the old crop season. Liverpool wheat due is down in morning.

MUST SHOW DATES

The regulations provide further that upon the request of any constable or game warden hunters must furnish "satisfactory proof" of the locality where game has been shot, and the date of killing.

Additional regulations exempt from all game open seasons Kasten Island, the Colony Farm, Dewdney, Oakalla Prison Farm and Central Park, Burnaby, a specified part of Nanaimo Harbor and a small area around Nelson.

PROTECTIVE RULES

It is also provided that no person shall kill or attempt to kill any migratory birds with a rifle; that pheasants, quail, prairie chicken (sharp-tailed grouse) and partridge must not be shot when there is any snow on the ground; that moose, caribou and wapiti and deer must not be shot while they are swimming, and that no tracer bullets must be used in killing any kind of game.

A new menace to game in the illicit use of aeroplanes to drive wild animals is evidently feared by the Game Conservation Board for it has ordered that:

"No person shall use a power boat or aeroplane to disturb any migratory game birds with the intent of driving such birds toward any person who is lying in wait for the purpose of shooting, killing or taking such migratory game birds."

AIR FORCE BAND LED BY MASTER

Flight-Lieutenant Amers Has Distinguished Career

His Majesty's Royal Air Force Band, which is coming to the Arena on August 7 in for a performance, has as its musical director Flight-Lieutenant Amers, who, in addition to being musically a genius, has also shown great cleverness in organization. He received his early musical education from his father, being taught the violin and clarinet. He joined the 16th Queen's Lancers, at Ceylon, and transferred to the band of the 2nd Life Guards, from which regiment he was sent as a student to Kneller Hall Royal Military School of Music to qualify for a bandmastership. After passing a very successful examination, he was appointed bandmaster of the 2nd Battalion, Devonshire Regiment, in 1901, with which battalion he served in South Africa, Crete, Malta and Egypt. After thirteen years' service he was promoted to the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, in October, 1914, from which institution he was selected to organize the band services of the Royal Air Force. In April, 1928, he was promoted to commissioned rank and became the first official director of music.

FLIGHT-LIEUT. AMERS

Director of the Royal Air Force Band, was the first army director of music, having been honored with the Order of the British Empire.

SAANICH BOARD SELECTS MANY NEW TEACHERS

Five Additions Made to Teaching Staff; Transfers Allowed

The resignation of William McMichael, principal of Cedar Hill school, was last night accepted with profound regret by the Saanich School Board. Mr. McMichael has served Saanich for eight years, and will join the staff of the Victoria School Board.

To fill the vacant principalship at Cedar Hill school, the board transferred E. G. Woodward from Strawberry Vale school. Mr. Woodward holds a first-class certificate and all his pupils who took the recent high school entrance examinations succeeded.

The principalship at Strawberry Vale will be offered Thomas F. Robson, principal of Revelstoke school, a war veteran who desired to obtain a Coast appointment.

Miss Ellen Styan was transferred from Craigflower to Saanichton, replacing Miss Aileen Revercomb, who was transferred to Cloverdale.

Bernard C. Gillie and Miss Harriet E. Edwards were appointed to vacancies at Craigflower. Miss Kathleen McConnell and Miss Sarah A. Rankin were chosen for Royal Oak and Tillicum schools respectively, and Miss May E. Bean was accorded a room at Cloverdale. All are residents of Saanich.

Hamilton, July 31.—Eight persons were injured, some of them seriously, when two automobiles collided on a highway near Inglewood, Ont., yesterday. One of the cars was sent into a ditch by the cutting in of a motor truck, and on its regaining the road crashed with another motor car.

AT THE THEATRES

COLLEEN MOORE IS AT BEST IN ROLE OF COUNTRY BRIDE

Far surpassing in emotional drama her previous work as a comedienne, Colleen Moore has given a performance in the stellar role of "Happiness Ahead" that unquestionably should be considered the finest of her career.

"Happiness Ahead" opened last night at the Capitol Theatre before an enthusiastic audience—an audience that laughed and wept by turns. Elements of comedy, romance, and pathos have been well blended in this picture, endowing it with every quality of entertainment from humor to tragedy. Through it all the convincing work of Miss Moore dominates, whether the action be serious or comic, revealing in her breadth of dramatic ability rarely found among the two outstanding scenes in the opinion of the writer, one was humorous, and the other a touching drama. Miss Moore gave a delightful performance in an episode in which she enacted a bride from the country, contending with the mystifying mechanical devices of city apartment life, and flying about in the tune of door-bell, telephone, and speaking-tube whistle while the dinner burns. In striking contrast to this enjoyable scene, is the final scene of the picture—emotional and dramatic in the extreme, which provides a rapid and well-rounded ending for the plot. It is without doubt one of the most unusual finishes ever presented in a screen story, and in it Miss Moore proves herself an exceptional actress.

On the stage at the Capitol this week the vaudeville specialties comprise some fine talent.

Notable among the stage features are Claire and Jimmy Mortell, singers and fast dancers, in a brand new presentation.

Others on the bill include: Roberts and Stewart, a clever team of harmony soloists, in some very fine song renditions; Harry Smith, Irish comedian, in an exceedingly funny skit; the Capitol Concert Orchestra, and Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C.

HERO OF AN HOUR, THEN OBLIVION, IS PLAYHOUSE THEME

The ability of sensational newspapers to make a hero of a person for a few short hours and then relegate him to oblivion—is the theme of "The Big Noise," the feature attraction at the Playhouse Theatre.

The story from which the picture was made was written by Ben Hecht, one of the best-known reporters and short-story writers in the country.

Notable among the elements of drama which have brought Hecht to the fore.

The all-featured cast includes Chester Conklin, Alice White, Sam Hardy, Jack Egan, David Torrence, and a score of others.

Allan Dwan directed the film for First National Pictures.

CLEVER PORTRAYAL OF STEEL WORKER BY MILTON SILLS

"The greatest acting Sills has done in his screen career," is the way the critics are describing the work of Milton Sills in his great steel starting picture for First National, "Men of Steel," which is now showing at the Variety Theatre. Sills, in this picture, plays the part of a war hero who rises from the laborer's ranks to the son-in-law of the great steel mill owner.

"THIRTEENTH JUROR" PRODUCED BY NEW STAR IN FILMDOM

Edward Laemmle, who directed the Universal-Jewel production "The Thirteenth Juror," now at the Columbia Theatre, has in a comparatively short time risen to the ranks of the screen's foremost directors. During the past year he has produced "Field by the Law" and "Cheating Cheaters," both considered among the best pictures of the season. Anna Q. Nilsson and Francis X. Bushman are co-featured in "The Thirteenth Juror."

DEPTHS OF HUMAN ANGUISH CONTRAST WITH PURE COMEDY

The age-old barrier to love—that of the passing years—is the motivation of the most startling film drama of the years, and Lon Chaney, portrayal of strange characters, has in it a vehicle that reveals more hidden facts in the gem of his artistry than any play in which the famous star has ever appeared.

This play is "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," Herbert Brenon's latest directorial feat, and one of Chaney's greatest triumphs. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer spectacle, now playing at the Dominion Theatre, has in it so many remarkable features that, in describing it, one wonders where to commence.

The stage play was great—the film version a masterpiece. Brenon took the original Italian version of the gripping drama of the clown who became the idol of kings; of the wail he befriended, loved, with a poignant passion—and surrendered for her own happiness in the great climax of the astounding play.

Chaney plumbs the depths of human anguish on one hand—on the other he stages a comedy which proves him perhaps one of the greatest comedians, when necessary, on the screen. The story has spectacle, thrills, laughs, romance, and a gripping drama—the three that strike the consciousness like a thunderbolt. It has everything a play can have.

Major J. Bullock-Webster announces that he had been successful in securing the services of an exceptionally strong cast, including Dr. Clem Davies, pastor of the City Temple, who has consented to take the leading part of "The Passer-by," for which he has special qualification.

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back" will be given at three performances on Friday and Saturday, September 7 and 8.

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS MOVIE COMING HERE

"Dawn."

This picture has aroused more controversy than any production in the history of motion pictures.

Because of its alleged war-inflammation spirit, it has been banned in some countries—a ban which many prominent men and critics declare to be entirely unjustified.

Apart from this angle, the film is one of the world's greatest masterpieces—a sublime piece of work that ranks it among the permanent classics.

Through the efforts of Canadian Educational Films Limited, "Dawn" has been secured for Canada, and has been passed the censors in nearly every province.

Victoria will see the first B.C. showing. The picture is of too colossal a type to be presented in the usual way. Hence it will be screened twice daily only, starting at 2:30 and 8:30 at the Coliseum. Seats will be reserved.

The date of engagement will be announced very shortly.

SELF-HEALING IS DEMONSTRATED BY MENTAL SCIENTIST

Professor Armand, from the original school of Mental Science, gave a remarkable demonstration of self-healing last night to an audience which filled the Victoria Hall.

Professor Armand explained that it is not to healing alone that mental science is applied, but also to business success, personality, preserving youth, controlling one's own weight, etc. He is staying in Victoria for a few days and giving private instruction and treatments at the Victoria Club Hall.

A second lecture will be given by Professor Armand on Thursday night of this week at the Victoria Club at which time he will explain thought transmission, the sub-conscious mind, second sight, dreams and the mystery of premonitions.

National Defence, five radio stations are to be established by the Royal Canadian Signal Corps to form a veritable chain of communication in the wilderness.

Some of the radio equipment will have to be carried on planes to the bases, owing to the absence of other transportation facilities.

At Prince Albert, Sask., where the district forestry inspector of Saskatchewan has his headquarters, the Signal Corps will install a large receiving and sending station. Stations will be established at Ladder Lake, where the Air Force operations are centred, Ile a la Crosse and Lac la Ronge, Sask.

A station also will be established at Snake Land, on Lake Winnipegosis.
